

Women on the Move

With Host Ember Reichgott Junge

Thursday, February 24th at 1PM Central (11AM PST)

"Can't We All Just Work Together?"

Are you a member of Generation X and wonder why those Boomers are so intense in their approach to work? Are you a Boomer, like me, and wonder why Gen Xers can seem lazy or disloyal? Is there a traditional women's approach to work that is different than men's and is that changing between the generations?

This week on Women on the Move we'll talk to Wendy Nemitz, a marketing consultant with Ingenuity Marketing Group who has seen many open conflicts in the workplace between the generations and between women and men. Can't we all just work together? We sure can, and we can learn from one another.
